Government Spends—But Others Get Investment

By JOHN T. FLYNN

The President has certainly struck a sound note in his statement that while he will press for a re-armament program he will not attempt to finance it with borrowed funds, but will put it on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Governor Bailey to Push Plan for Exemption of Tax

Finds Amendment to Be Necessary for Personal
Exemption

DEADLINE AT $200

Department Attorneys Instructed to Draw Up
Resolution

LITTLE ROCK — (AP) — Governor Bailey disclosed Tuesday that his proposed elimination of personal property taxes on household goods, particularly kitchen utensils, would take the form of a constitutional amendment to be voted upon at the 1940 election.

The governor, who made this proposal a plank in his platform while successfully seeking re-election, said that at the start he had been of the opinion the elimination could be accomplished through legislation.

The governor instructed a committee composed of attorneys representing administration departments, to draw up a resolution to be presented to the legislature in January.

An authoritative source said the committee had decided tentatively to draft a resolution exempting household goods up to $200 valuation from taxation.

George Burns Held Smuggling Charge

Faces Possible Prison Sentence and Fine, on Nine Counts

NEW YORK — (AP) — George Burns, whose air resigned indignation at the cheerful grotesqueries of "Gracie" Allen has amused radio audiences for years, stood mute and dazed in federal court Monday and pleaded guilty to charges of jewelry smuggling.

Burns, husband of Miss Allen and the "straight man" to her characterizations of a vague and "dumb" female, was released immediately without bond.

Government counsel said he was subject to possible maximum penalties of 18 years imprisonment and fines totaling $45,000 under the nine counts in two indictments against him, despite the fact that the offenses were defined in the statute as misdemeanors.

Assistant United States Attorney Joseph V. Delaney asked consideration for the comedian because he had cooperated with the government in a broad investigation of smuggling which began with a raid late in October on the Park avenue apartment of Mrs. Edgar Lauer, wife of a state supreme court justice, by treasury agents in search of smuggled Parisian knick-knacks and furs.

Burns, who appeared in a dark suit, red scarf and white shirt, declined to say whether he would testify for the prosecution against his accused co-defendants, Albert N. Chaperau, the "mystery man" of the whole affair, and a woman known variously as Paula Gheyskens, Paula Mahoney and Paula Chaperau. She was named in only one indictment.

Specifically, Burns was indicted for the smuggling of two bracelets and a ring, valued by the government at $4,885.

Chaperau, who has described himself as a commercial agent for the Nicaraguan consulate-general here, has been pictured by the government as the actual carrier of smuggling goods, escaping customs examination through diplomatic courtesy, and investigators have obtained a long list of men and women prominent in the entertainment world who were among his supposed acquaintances.

These included Jack Benny and Jack Pearl, comedians, and Wallace Ford, a motion picture director.

Mrs. Lauer, the justice's wife, was indicted on December 5 with Chaperau on charges of smuggling and conspiracy, and her case is pending. Chaperau has claimed that his troubles arose through the notice of a German maid who was discharged by the Lauers for breaking into an anti-Nazi dinner table conversation with a denunciation of her master, her mistress and their guests.

Beer-Bottle Slayer Enters Guilty Plea

Surprise Move Is Made in Circuit Court at Malvern

MALVERN, Ark.—(AP)—In a surprise move, Vasco Wayman Carrier, Oklahoma ex-convict, pleaded guilty in circuit court here Monday afternoon to a charge of first degree murder in connection with the November 11 beer bottle slaying of W. J. Van Houser, Lubbock, Texas, traveling salesman.

Carrier previously pleaded innocent to the charge and was scheduled to have been tried Monday. The trial was postponed until Thursday on motion of the state. Circuit Judge H. B. Means, before whom Carrier entered his guilty plea, announced he would pass sentence on Thursday.

The ex-convict was captured at El Paso, Texas, a week after Van Houser's body was found amidst a litter of broken beer bottles on a lonely road near here. Hot Spring county officials charged the traveling salesman had engaged Carrier to drive him to Memphis. Van Houser's automobile was found abandoned in Muskogee, Okla., three days after the slaying.

Sheriff Warns All Who Have Not Paid Delinquent Taxes

Property to Be Seized
Next Week, Bearden
Declares

"MUST COLLECT TAX"

Office Is Opened Here for Collections This Week

Sheriff Jim Bearden warned Tuesday that all personal property of which the taxes are delinquent by next week will be seized and offered for public sale.

The sheriff said it was his duty to collect personal taxes—that he didn't "mean to be hard-boiled" but that the taxes must be collected.

Bearden said he was opening a local office in the Citizens National Bank building with hours from 8 to 6 to collect all personal delinquent taxes.

The sheriff issued a statement which follows:

"I have mailed to every delinquent personal tax payer a notice of his delinquent taxes are not paid this week, I will instruct all local deputies to begin seizing and advertising the property for public sale.

"I do not mean to be hard-boiled—but the taxes must be collected. Please take advantage of this notice or expect your personal property of which the taxes are not paid to be seized and advertised for sale next week.

"Persons who desire to take advantage of this notice may call or send money orders to the local office in the Citizens National Bank building.

"Office hours are from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m."

Latimer Absolved in Auto Tragedy

Body of Woman Hitchhiker Still Being Held at Texarkana

TEXARKANA—J. H. Latimer, deputy collector of federal internal revenue here, Monday was absolved of blame by Prosecuting Attorney Ned Stewart for the death of Mrs. H. E. Thompson, 79-year-old hitchhiker who was killed 15 miles north of Texarkana when struck by an automobile as she walked along the Little Rock highway December 4.

The day after the fatal mishap, Latimer appeared at the office of Sheriff Tom Sewell and in a written statement said "it might have been my car that struck and killed Mrs. Thompson."

"I have investigated fully this case from all angles and I don't see how Mr. Latimer could possibly have been to blame," Prosecutor Stewart said. "I am filing no charges against him."

Mrs. Thompson was en route from the west coast to Kentucky when killed. Her body is still being held at the east funeral home here.

MIND Your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then check against the authoritative answers below:

1. Should bread plates be put on table when there is no butter served with the dinner?
2. When a maid is serving a guest at table, does she stand sideways or parallel to the table?
3. In clearing the table for a course, should all the lunch plates and then all the salad or bread and butter plates be removed?
4. In passing a dish, is it important not to hold it with your fingers on the edge?
5. How should a dish be passed that has a handle?

What would you do if—
Key? Cut off first tie—
(a) Leg nearest you?
(b) White meat from the breast?
(c) Wish bone?

1. No.
2. Sidewise to avoid crowding guests.
3. No, a complete cover should be removed at one time.
4. Yes.
5. With handle toward person receiving it.

Mrs. M. B. Johnson Dies in Carolina

Body Being Returned to Hope for Funeral
Wednesday

Mrs. Mollie Barton Johnson, about 84, of Hope, wife of the late A. L. Johnson, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lon L. Campbell and Mr. Campbell at Asheville, North Carolina, at 1:30 p. m. Monday.

The body is being returned to Hope for funeral services from First Methodist church at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon with burial in Rose Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Johnson was born in Falcon, Nevada county, but moved to Hope with her family soon after the town was settled. She made Hope her home for more than 60 years.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Campbell, two grand daughters, Mrs. Harold Schall of Knoxville, Tenn., and Miss Dorothy Campbell of Asheville, N. C.; and one brother, Dr. Louis S. Barton, pastor of First Methodist church, Muskogee, Okla.

Mrs. Johnson had been visiting her daughter in Asheville since August.

An Appeal for Christmas Fund

By ROY ANDERSON
Chairman Goodfellows Christmas Fund Drive.

The thought of "Do your Christmas shopping early" has been printed, talked and encouraged for some time, now—so again we call it to the attention of all Goodfellows.

Join the Goodfellows club early—for our committee on distribution MUST know how much they can spend before they buy.

Your contribution will help play Santa Claus for some child in need—and the number to be cared for depends on you.

Will some child's stocking be empty Christmas morning because you failed to contribute early?

How would you have felt on Christmas morning if in your stocking there was no orange, no apple, no "raisins"? And the small toy or the doll—they were there when you woke up—your confidence in Santa wasn't shaken.

How will it be for many in this town if you fail in this opportunity to help play Santa on Christ's birthday? Hand your contribution to some other Goodfellow today.

National Health of France and Germany Compared.

France and Germany present dramatically contrasting pictures these days. East of the Rhine all is order and efficiency. A united nation is working hard, getting its defenses in order, letting two or three top officials do all the talking, and giving an all-round demonstration of a people which knows what it wants and is of one mind about the best way to get there.

In France things are just the reverse. A moment of grave national crisis has brought disunity rather than unity. Frenchmen fight Frenchmen, and each faction apparently prefers to be damned rather than be saved in any way but its own. And while the struggle goes on the nation is paralyzed. The vital defense measures on which security depends are not taken.

Apparently, therefore, the two great continental powers of Europe are giving a vivid demonstration that the Hitlers and Mussolinis are right—that democracy talks and wrangles but does not act, and that only a dictatorship can act efficiently in a crisis.

But surface appearances can be deceiving. Perfect order can be a sign of illness rather than of health; interminable wrangling and dissension can reflect vitality, not decline. And the drama brought on by the Munich settlement is still only in its first act. Much must happen before any final verdict on the way in which France met the crisis can be handed down.

Meanwhile, observe that the French are not simply marking time. The bitter row over the Daladier program does not represent so much lost motion. In their own way—a costly and clumsy way, perhaps, but one which nevertheless will ultimately lead to a solution—the French people are determining precisely how they will meet the crisis.

The nation is in danger, to be sure, but it will meet the danger if, in the end, the program it follows is one which is approved by a majority of all Frenchmen—and if all hands have had a chance to say their say about it. If past history is any indication, France will ultimately present a united front to the foe—even if a few French heads do get cracked in the meantime.

And across the Rhine, just incidentally, there is also a grave crisis. The orgy of savagery let loose by the anti-Jewish campaign may yet cost Germany as much as was won in the Munich settlement. Civilized opinion all over the world is crystallizing in the determination that no more must be yielded to Hitler. The mobs that attacked Germany's Jews may well have sowed the seeds of German defeat in the next war.

And yet the German people, far from rallying to meet this crisis, don't even know that it exists. All they know is that Hitler has won a new triumph. Obsequiously industrious, they have entrusted their fate to the hands of one man—and that man creates new enemies for them as fast as he conquers old ones.

Which nation is in better health—one that sees its perils and argues passionately about the way to meet it, or one that does not know that a peril exists?

Skin Eruptions of Eczema Should Be Skillfully Treated at the Start

The term eczema has been applied to all sorts of inflammations of the skin for years. Even today the experts are not certain as to just which skin disease are best included in this category. These conditions do not represent a single disease however. Most authorities are inclined to restrict the term to inflammations of the skin in which there is definite reaction to some external substance like drugs, oils, varnishes, cleaning materials, paints, dyes and disinfectants. Hypersensitivity to such substances is conceived to be the basic cause of eczema.

Just how people become sensitized to these substances is not yet known. Sometimes the reaction appears after the first contact with a substance of the type that has been mentioned. Some times exposure must take place over fairly long periods of time. In other instances, persons seem to be desensitized from repeated contacts with the substance.

Dr. Fred Wise mentions workers who are employed in a Japanese lacquer factory who suffer from eczema due to the lacquer. At first the lacquer aggravates the eruption, then the worker will become desensitized and may continue to work without a recurrence. If, however, he discontinues his work for a long period of time, the desensitization may be lost and the eruption will occur again.

Some people seem to inherit a predisposition to eczema. Moreover there are certain habits of diet and living which seem to encourage the spread of eczema. For example, there are alcoholism, chronic disturbance of digestion, undernourishment, and disturbances of the function of the glands. Conditions of this type are frequently found in persons who have repeated eruptions of the skin.

Especially important are those cases of eczema which appear in infants and small children. In most cases, it will be found that others in the family have asthma, hay fever, eruptions of the skin, or similar disturbances, so that the condition of sensitivity is to some extent inherited.

Many people are inclined to regard eruptions on the skin as well as sensitivity as important. Actually, however, it is safer to regard such people as sick. At least during the early periods of their care, they should be given rest in bed sedatives to keep them quiet, proper control to prevent scratching and damage to the skin because of the itching, and suitable lotions to bring about recovery from the inflammation. In certain instances the X-ray is used and obviously, under such circumstances, the patient may have to be in the hospital.

The itching of eczema is itself a most serious symptom. When the skin itches, the person scratches. When he scratches he duces secondary infection. Thus, the first step the doctor may take is to apply some or many different remedies that are available for controlling such itching.

It is not desirable for the patient to try to treat himself, because a different remedy is required for each of the different types of eczema. As the person who has the disease well knows, it passes through periods of dryness and moistness, of itching and irritation, and each of these states must be treated according to the special circumstances that exist.

Thank you sir, or madam, as the case may be—Chinese student at the University of Michigan who had learned his Occidental courtesy out of a book.

Says Man's Been Here For 18,000 Years

CHICAGO.—Prof. Fay-Cooper Cole of the University of Chicago has expressed belief that the first inhabitants of North America migrated here 18,000 years ago.

"Since no traces of either Stone Age men or the higher primates have been found in America it is apparent," he said, "that the earliest men in the new world were immigrants who arrived approximately 18,000 years ago.

"Their culture was not so advanced as the civilization of their contemporaries of the soluterean period in Europe."

The Lightning of the Christmas Trees

Since the lightning of the beautiful trees surrounding the city hall some few years back, it never seems quite like the Christmas season in our city, until these trees are lighted. On Monday evening, these gleaming out door symbols proclaimed their message once more.

Since the establishment of this beautiful Christmas gesture, Miss Louise Knobel has been chairman, and with the assistance of the City of Hope, the different civic and literary organizations, public spirited boys and girls, these symbols have blazed out in all their glory.

One viewing these beautifully lighted trees dedicated to Christendom's Nativity, and thinking of the thousands of them sprinkled through all the cities and towns from Maine to California and from Oregon to Florida, we can't help but think how short a time has passed since the lighting by electricity of the first community tree set up in Madison Square Garden, New York in 1912. Ever since 1912 there has been a great tree lighted up in Madison Square. And every Christmas since there have been hundreds of such illuminated Christmas trees throughout the land. This Christmas, Miss Knobel was assisted by the above organizations and Miss Hattie Anne Feild and the Home Ec girls.

The Ogburn School of Dancing will present the following pupils in a Charity Review, Thursday evening, December 15, at 8 o'clock at the city hall auditorium: Charlotte Ann Hobbs, Jerry Johnson, Helen Marie Hall, Edna Earl Wright, Nancy Shultz, Carolyn Cox, Barbara Sue Stephenson, Peggy Cook, Jim Ogburn, Betty Willis Northcutt, Catherine Cox, Martha Marilyn McGinnis, Alice Lile, David Dempsey, Jessie Clarice Brown, Johnnie Jarvis, Ramona Putman, Betty Jo Jones, Marian Stewart, Carolyn Hamilton, Pollyanna Williams, Eunice Dale Baker, Phanae Fuller, Charles Bundy, Mary Kate Tedford, Mary Jane Hume, and Mary Ann Lile. In addition there will be a clever little Marionette show.

Miss Martha Ann Singleton arrived Monday night to spend the Christmas holidays and winter vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Singleton, resuming her studies at Baylor University in March for the spring term.

The Y. W. A. of the First Baptist church held their special Lottie Moon Christmas program on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Hugh Jones on South Main street. The house was decorated in the Christmas motif, including a brilliantly lighted tree, evergreens and bright tinsel. On the dining table, a little village was formed with Santa and his reindeer approaching. Miss Katie McDaniel had charge of the program, with six taking part. After the program, Mrs. Jones, told the life story of Miss Lottie Moon, a missionary to China for 40 years. An offering of $18 was taken. A surprise shower was then given to Miss Katie McDaniel who will be married on January 1st to Chelsea Leggett of Jacksonville, Miss. Many recipes were written and given to the bride-to-be, after which the presents were opened. Mrs. W. R. Hamilton and Mrs. J. H. McDaniel were guests. There were thirty present.

It is with deepest regret that we note the passing of our old friend, Mrs. A. L. Johnson, who passed on Monday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. L. Campbell and Mr. Campbell in Asheville, N. C. "Miss Mollie" as the writer knew her, came to Hope with her mother and brother, Dr. Louis Barton of Oklahoma City, among Hope's first settlers, and just as far back as memory will carry us, we were taught to revere "Miss Mollie" as, in the words of an old colored servant, "A Christian Lady," for her Christianity has been a lasting influence with us, and she was certainly a true Southern Lady of the old school. After the passing of Mr. Johnson several years ago, she went to live with Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, but has spent a part of each year in the old home town, and her loyalty to Hope and Hope people was something deep and lasting. This late summer, when she prepared to return to Asheville, after a summer's visit in her old home, she called the writer and asked her to announce in her column, that she was going back to Asheville, and would not be back for her usual visit as heretofore, in other words, she was saying "good bye." Funeral services will be held from the First Methodist church in this city at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon, with burial at Rose Hill cemetery.

The American Legion Auxiliary luncheon which was to have been held on Wednesday has been postponed.

The Clara Lowthorp chapter C. of C. will meet at 7:15 Thursday evening at the home of Miss Roslyn Hall on South Main street with Misses Mary Ross McFadden, Carolyn Trimble and Linda Cobb as associate hostesses for the Christmas party.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Harry Bryant have issued invitations for an at home on the Fiftieth Anniversary of their wedding, Monday January 2, from 8 until 10 o'clock, p. m. 216 North Hervey street.

On account of the funeral services for Mrs. A. L. Johnson, the meeting of the Spiritual Life group of the Methodist church has been postponed until a later date.

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court Monday asked lawyers and laymen to help draft rules regulating the state bar as required by the constitutional amendment adopted at the November general election.

Will Play All-Star High School Game

North and South Arkansas Graduates to Clash at Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—A one-week school for high school coaches, featuring an all-star football game between north Arkansas and south Arkansas high school graduate teams, will be sponsored at Rix Stadium here August 14-19 by the Arkansas Athletic Conference. Coach Wayne (Red) Swain of Hot Springs High School announced Monday.

Plans for the school and game were drawn tentatively at a meeting of the conference in Little Rock Saturday. A committee to plan details of the school was appointed, consisting of Coach Allen Dunaway, Pine Bluff; Wallace Bailey, Russellville; and Bob Cowan, North Little Rock, and Earl F. Quigley, director of athletics at Little Rock High School.

Players to Train One Week The all-star teams of 20 men each will be chosen by the school staff from among the 1939 graduates of Arkansas high schools. The players will receive a week's training here under the coaches before the game on Friday. The Arkansas river will be the dividing line in forming the north Arkansas and south Arkansas districts.

Members of the coaching staffs of the various colleges of the state and the university will compose the faculty of the school. Coach Swain said all of the college and university officials had agreed to serve.

Free to Arkansas Coaches Tuition will be free to Arkansas high school coaches, but those from other states will be charged a tuition fee. Hot Springs obtained the school by agreeing to furnish the playing field and training equipment. Hotels here will be asked to house the 12 college coaches on the teaching staff. No donations will be asked, Coach Swain said.

No Room in Jail For This Thief

AKRON, Ohio.—(AP)—Police officers kicked a thief out of Akron's city jail. Officer Fred Casdorff caught a youthful transient who had been given a night's lodging raiding the pantry of its bologna supply. "Get out of this jail," Casdorff bellowed. "We don't want thieves around here."

Not since the first few years after the World War has congress permitted Treasury money to be lent to a foreign government. All those loans were made in Europe and all are in default except the small one to Finland. Those countries cannot even borrow from private investors in this country because of the Johnson Act.

None of the Latin-American countries owes the Treasury any money, although several have borrowed extensively from private investors in this country. When the depression sent a large part of the Latin-American securities into default, private loans from this country largely dried up and only Argentina has borrowed here in the last few years.

In the first 10 months of this year, sales of American goods to Latin-America amounted to about $520,000,000, compared with $2,711,067,000 to the world as a whole. In the same period, the United States bought $622,000,000 from Latin-America and $2,651,745,000 from the world.

Morgenthau said that one of the chief obstacles to increasing sales in Latin-America was the difficulty Latin-American businessmen experienced in getting dollars to pay for our goods. Except for increased United States purchases from Latin-America, the chief means of increasing the amount of dollar exchange available to those countries is lending it to them.

Spring Hill Plays Saratoga Tuesday

Spring Hill Boys and Girls Win Over Fulton Teams, Earlier

Spring Hill basketball teams are ready to meet Saratoga December 13. Because of a good training season and a winning record they feel confident of victory.

The Spring Hill senior boys have a good winning record, having lost only two games in the county and lost to other good teams by only one or two points. The girls and juniors have lost only one game in the county.

In a hard fought game the Spring Hill girls won over Fulton girls Friday by a score of 14-17 with Davis of Spring Hill and Wilson of Fulton being high-point girls.

The senior boys played a slug game which resulted in a score of 7-15 in Spring Hill's favor. Yocom was high-point man from Spring Hill and Crawford of Fulton.

Spring Hill also expects to defeat Washington on the Spring Hill court Friday afternoon, December 16, although Washington is said to have a strong team this year.

Farm Program Praised by Farm Bureau Head

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Federation, said in his annual address Tuesday that the agricultural adjustment act of 1938, "coupled with the soil conservation act, the market-in-garagement act, and allied legislation, gives us the best all-around farm program we have ever had."

Default in Lafayette Bond Issue Remedied

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—Comptroller J. O. The default was shown by an audit of the county's affairs last year.

Maybe He Didn't Want to Pay Dues

ARKANSAS CITY, Kans.—(AP)—The American Legion may have to search for another Elmer. Elmer is the skunk the Legion gives its members to induce the into pay back dues. When the member pays up, he has the privilege of handing Elmer down to some other delinquent dues payer. But Bob Cox was so taken by Elmer he has decided to keep him permanently. "The Legion will have to find another skunk," he said.

Skylarks have been introduced into America on several occasions, but each time they soon died out.

"There Is No Profitable Substitute for Quality"

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

A portrait attachment—speaking of inexpensive Christmas gifts—is often essential for taking a close-up such as this.

CHRISTMAS is the gift season. Already, wise givers are making up lists, in order to do their shopping early. And I imagine most Snapshot Guild members, knowing how much the camera hobby has meant to them, will choose gifts that help others enjoy the fun of picture-making.

There are many such gifts, but they should be selected wisely. The gift must, by all means, be useful—and suited to the person who receives it. Thus, it would be unwise to give an advanced type of camera to a beginner. Rather, give him—if a young child—a simple box camera or if around high school age—a folding camera. A book on how to make good pictures can well accompany each camera gift; there is a popular one for but fifty cents. Then later on, after he learns the elements of picture-taking, he can better use a superior camera with fast lenses and wider picture-making range.

For your fellow hobbyists, camera accessories are ideal gifts. For example, few hobbyists have enough color filters. A choice of several filters is desirable, if special picture effects are to be obtained. Your friend may have a K-1 or K-3 filter for everyday use, yet need a light green X-1 filter for obtaining superior tone quality in outdoor scenes and informal portraits. He may also need a G or A filter for dramatic sky effects, or for clear-cut pictures of distant scenes. A needed filter would be an appropriate gift to him.

Apportionment $1.61 Per School Pupil

Hempstead County's Quarterly State Allotment Is $17,251

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—The State Board of Education Monday apportioned $1,611.20 per school pupil for the second quarter of the 1938-39 fiscal year.

The apportionment, based on a school enumeration of 630,560 pupils, amounted to $1.61 per student.

Apportionment by counties included: Columbia $13,470.87; Clark $13,366.22; Hempstead $17,251.15; Hot Springs $9,540.32; Ouachita $15,661.89; Union $26,377.99; Arkansas $12,227.95; Pope $13,614.16; White $21,119.98.

"Big 15" Will Hold Cage Tournament

Conference Turns Down Applications From Nashville and Prescott

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—The Arkansas high school athletic conference put a new fixture on the state's sports calendar Saturday by authorizing an annual conference basketball tournament to be held just ahead of the spring state basketball tournaments.

The conference met to vote in an effort to assist members in fulfilling the requirement that contenders for the championship play at least 12 inter-conference games. The tournament winner would receive a trophy, but the annual circuit championship would continue to be awarded on won and lost percentage over the entire season.

Pine Bluff and Jonesboro were mentioned as likely sites for the tournament. Allen Dunaway, Pine Bluff, Allen Berry, El Dorado, and LeRoy Scott, Little Rock, were named to decide on place and date.

Clifford Shaw, Little Rock, not connected with any conference school, was designated conference statistician for all sports.

A recommendation that football officials be paid from $15 to $20 a per game was adopted.

The 15-member loop decided against any increase in membership at this time and passed action on applications from Nashville and Prescott high schools.

The meeting formally awarded the 1938 football championship to Little Rock High.

A conference election of last September was set aside in order to meet by-law requirements for distributing representation between coaches and other school officials. Sam Coleman, Camden coach, and Wayne Swain, Hot Springs coach, were renominated president and secretary-treasurer respectively.

V. E. Sammons, Hot Springs principal, to succeed Coach Foy Hammons, Hope. R. B. Brawner, North Little Rock principal, and John Larson, Little Rock principal, were designated to serve with these officers on the executive committee.

Date and place for the conference track meet was left to the committee. Dunaway, Swain, Wallace Bailey, Russellville, Bob Cowan, North Little Rock, and Earl Guigley, Little Rock, were named to study a proposed summer coaching school.

SERIAL STORY

SKI'S THE LIMIT

BY ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES
COPYRIGHT, 1938 NEA SERVICE, INC.

LAST OF CHARACTERS
SALLY REAULT—heroine, she had everything that popularity could wish for except...
DAN REYNOLDS—hero, little might have had Sally but she was king on skis...
COREY REYNOLDS—king of the social whirl, so... but go on with the story.

Yesterday, Sally, queen of the campus, meets Dan Reynolds, king of skis, and is rebuffed whereupon she vows to win his attention.

CHAPTER II

THE Ski-Rest, perched high like a crow's nest on top of the mountain, was packed with red-cheeked, bright-eyed youngsters dressed in sweaters and knickers and snow suits, woolly mittens and heavy boots. A big fire roared at each end of the long, log room in the huge stone fireplace. The smell of smoke and wax mingled with the more tantalizing fragrance of coffee and hamburgers. The record machine sang out one gay dance tune after another in rapid succession challenging the chaff and chatter that rose all around. Outside the thermometer registered fifteen below and there was a bitter wind, but within was warmth and coziness and laughter.

"How come you're not entering any of the women's events, Sally?" Babe Fairchild, plump, doll-faced blond whose nickname suited perfectly, asked the question that all of the "gang" had been hesitating to put. "Everyone thought, as Queen of the Carnival, you'd put the rest of us girls in our places on skis and skates."

"Why should you think that?" Sally asked. Her dark eyes, beneath long curling lashes, were searching covertly for one particular person among all the close-knit groups. "I'm not that good. Not nearly good enough, in fact." She had her reasons, but she did signal them out. "There goes Corey Porter, senior president, swell guy!" and, "That's Sally Blair. She was voted the most popular girl in her school and now she's to be Queen of the carnival!"

"Remember," Corey said, "you're my girl this week-end, Sally. Anyone who tried to break that up had just better watch his neck!" His look was so fierce, so possessive that Sally laughed.

"I guess no one will dare try," she said. "That is if he values his neck." But she knew that Corey would find plenty of competition. Wherever she went Sally always held court.

ROUNDING the bend they came upon a dazzlingly beautiful sight, wind-rippled snow, sparkling with myriad tiny diamonds, dark sentinels of pines marching up the mountain sides, a blue, blue sky spread like a canopy overhead, and crowds and crowds of brightly-costumed people.

"Isn't it lovely?" Sally exclaimed, and then, "Oh, Corey—look at that!" She caught his arm, standing breathless, watching a dark figure poised high above their heads, a figure that vortaged now with one swift graceful forward movement, poised for the geland-sprung, or jump, rose like a bird skimming down the trail of the slick steep slope, a cloud of snow like silvery smoke billowing behind, to come to a smooth, perfect stop with an elaborately executed "Christie."

"That was worth looking at," Corey admitted. "Perfect co-ordination and judgment, marvelous tempo and control."

"Who is he?" Sally demanded, still wide-eyed and breathless. Never had she seen anything to equal that performance in sheer grace and beauty.

Pro Grid Title Won by New York Giants

Whip Green Bay Packers 23 to 17 Before 48,120 Fans

NEW YORK.—(AP)—The New York Giants soundly thumped the Green Bay Packers, 23 to 17 Sunday, and won the National Professional Football League championship. A crowd of 48,120 huddled in the Polo Grounds, was rewarded by a game that included 40 points, two field goals, a 49-yard pass and a final desperate drive by the Packers that brought them 40 yards in the last 11 seconds of play.

But by then it was too late. The Giants, who had taken the lead in the first period on a field goal and a touchdown and held it for all but three minutes of the game, were too strong. As time ran out they smashed through to hurry Arnold Herber and his last pass bounced crazily on the soggy turf with no receiver near it.

The Giants had a nine-point lead before the game was 10 minutes old. They matched two Packers' touchdowns in the second period with one of their own, lost the lead by one point in the third period when Paul Engstretren placekicked a field goal and put the Packers ahead, 17-16, and then stormed down the field after the next kickoff for 61 yards and the touchdown that won the game.

Soar Goes to Town
In this final drive, Hank Soar brought the kickoff back 19 yards to his own 29. Then he plunged at the line, drove through the tackles and finally made a first down on the Packers' 33 by the length of the ball. Ed Danowski, the league's leading

"Corey wants to ask you if you'll give me a lesson in skiing tomorrow morning," Sally put in.

"Just what is the big idea?" Corey asked, after the applause.

He'll make it, too, if he keeps up that form. He'll probably walk away with most of the honors tomorrow. At least, as one of his fraternity brothers, I can say he's just better, since we're backing him to stack up points for dear old Dartmouth."

"I'd like to meet him," Sally said. It suddenly seemed imperative that she should meet this young man. He was the center now of a noisy, enthusiastic crowd as Sally and Corey drew near.

COREY glanced at her, sideways; his blue eyes narrowed. "That wouldn't do you any good," he informed her, crisply. "Reynolds hasn't any time for women. Not even one as do-velly and desirable as you, my sweet. Especially one of your kind, I might add."

"Are you afraid you couldn't wring his neck?" Sally laughed at him. "What do you mean by 'one of my kind'? I can't say I exactly relish that!"

There was not time for Corey to answer this, even with one of his ever-ready wise-cracks. Several of the young people, gathered about Dan Reynolds, recognized Sally and Corey and called out to them.

"Hi, there!" "Alley-oop! It's about time you joined us!" "Here comes the Queen, everybody! Make way! Let's have a royal welcome!"

Three long loud cheers rang out from lusty young throats as Sally responded with a mocking bow, flashing her smiles to the right and left. However, her dark eyes did not leave the figure of the tall, bare-headed boy, remaining silent and apart.

He, alone, had not raised his voice in welcome.

"Isn't someone going to introduce us?" Sally inquired. Her smile was just for him now. The Queen singling out a humble subject, bestowing a special favor. She would show Corey that he was mistaken. Sally had yet to meet the young man who would not passer, took charge at this point. He sent a 10-yard heave to Soar, then smashed through guard for a four-play gain and the ball was on the Packers' 24, when Danowski spun back and passed. Soar took the ball off Clark Hinkle's fingertips on the seven and dragged the Green Bay fullback over the line for the touchdown. Cuff kicked goal.

Howell, Poole Block Kicks
Before that the Giants or the Packers had been scoring or on the way to a score all the time. Jim Lee Howell, the Giant end, blocked Hinkle's second seven in the first period. The packer line stopped the Giant's running attack cold, so Ward Cuff, the place-kicker went back and booted the ball through the uprights with Danowski holding.

Again a blocked kick led to a score. This time Jim Poole ran into the ball as it left Cecil Isbell's toe and Howell recovered on the 26. A short pass put the ball on the Packer 22 and Tuffy Leemans went to work. He made three over left guard, then went off tackle and cut back of a twisting run that put the leather on the six. On the next play he crashed through left tackle, was hit four times and finally dove over. Jim Gildea missed the conversion, but the Giants had nine points and the Packers hadn't been out of their own territory.

New Textbooks for State Authorized

Education Board Moves to Remedy Deficiency in Four Grades

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—(AP)—The state board of education moved Monday to remedy a deficiency of first, second, third and fourth grade readers in Arkansas' public schools, by authorizing the free textbook commission to expend $54,872.83 immediately for a new edition.

Department officials explained that the new books were not replacements but were supplemental readers to those already in use. In these grades, officials said, more than one edition is completed during the school year and at present only one edition per grade is available.

The expenditure authorized Monday was estimated as sufficient to provide books for approximately 40 per cent of the enrollment in those four grades. Ultimate expenditures up to $68,591.64, enough to provide books for 50 per cent of the enrollment, were authorized—contingent upon availability of funds. Books of a single complete edition for 100 per cent enrollment in the four grades already are in use, officials said. The board apportioned $1,015,201.60 to the schools for the second quarter of the 1938-39 fiscal year. Basing the allotment on a 630,560 student enrollment, the apportionment amounted to $1.61 per capita. The apportionment brought to $2.71 per capita allotment for the fiscal year. Last year $2.88 had been apportioned each student at the end of the second quarter. Sales tax revenues provided $536,420 of this year's total, the remainder coming from the common school fund.

School district bond issues aggregating $173,000 were approved by the board. They included:

Horatio school district No. 5, of Sevier county, $40,500 four and one half per cent refunding bonds. The present bonds bear five per cent. An agent's commission of two per cent of the face value of the bonds was authorized.

Louisville school district, Lafayette county, an original $8,000 issue of four per cent bonds for school improvements.

Pine Bluff school district No. 3, Jefferson county, an original issue of $40,000 four and one half per cent bonds to mature in 1956 for constructing a negro school building and auditorium.

BUTTE, Mont.—(AP)—Butte temporarily owns a drug store. The city found itself in the drug business when it bought, at cost, a druggist's stock that had been ruined when water overflowed a curbing and ran into his basement during a storm. He claimed the city was responsible for the damage.

Patmos Extends Winning Streak

Pirates Defeat Emerson, 34-22 for 8th Straight Victory

PATMOS, Ark.—The Patmos Pirates continued their winning streak by routing down into Columbia county Friday night and decisively defeating a strong Emerson quintet 34 to 22.

This was the eighth straight win for the Pirates with no defeats. Seemingly the Pirates are serving notice by their play that they will be very much in the fight for district honors this year.

In a preliminary game the junior Pirates overwhelmed the Emerson juniors 48-4.

The Giants had a nine-point lead before the game was 10 minutes old. They matched two Packers' touchdowns in the second period with one of their own, lost the lead by one point in the third period when Paul Engstretren placekicked a field goal and put the Packers ahead, 17-16, and then stormed down the field after the next kickoff for 61 yards and the touchdown that won the game.

Soar Goes to Town
In this final drive, Hank Soar brought the kickoff back 19 yards to his own 29. Then he plunged at the line, drove through the tackles and finally made a first down on the Packers' 33 by the length of the ball. Ed Danowski, the league's leading
